

Amarr model 4100

In applications where climate control is a must, the 4100 Series provides maximum energy efficiency by using a polyurethane core that is foamed-in-place between the exterior and interior galvanized steel skins.